CONDITIONS GOVERNING THE REPRODUCTION OF IMAGES

Objects in the Museum's collections shall not be reproduced in any way without the prior written consent of an officer of the Museum.

Fees are payable upon presentation of invoice unless the Museum specifically agrees otherwise in writing and are not refundable if the work is subsequently not used.

Rental is for a period of six months, and the item must be returned at the end of that time unless the Museum agrees in writing to an extension, in which case an additional rental fee may be charged.

This permission is a non-exclusive license to reproduce the image(s) in one edition in the one language specified, unless otherwise agreed by the Museum in writing. Permission to use the reproduction(s) in reprints, revised editions, foreign language translations, or derivative works must be requested separately.

Only publications bearing appropriate copyright notices may reproduce works in the Museum's collections, and a reproduction of an image constitutes a warranty to the museum that all available copyright protection for the reproduction has been secured. Such copyrights, insofar as they apply to reproduction(s) of the Museum's image may not be transferred or assigned without the Museum's permission in writing.

The Museum reserves all television and motion picture rights on all reproductions of works in the Museum's collections.

The image must be reproduced in its entirety unless express permission is given to crop or to print details, which must be appropriately identified. Nothing may be superimposed on the image.

All reproductions shall bear the following credit line:

Collection of Henry Sheldon Museum of Vermont History, Middlebury, Vermont

The Museum must be sent a copy of any publication, including videos and films in which reproduction(s) from the collection appear. If this is not possible in the case of very expensive books, tear sheets and full bibliographic information must be supplied when the publication appears.
